I've gotten to know Art and Arminco over the past two years because that's how long it took for my landlord to deliver my space. New unbuilt shopping centers can have a multitude of unforeseen delays (all unrelated to Arminco).

In those two years, they have worked tirelessly to perfect my floor plan design. Instead of charging me for every cycle of changes I requested, they patiently worked with me as I reworked my design many times over. They helped me develop my vision and then put it into reality.

After the space was finally delivered, we were able to start construction. However, we ran into a few problems. Building components that we expected to be delivered were not. As frustrated as I was, Art and his team continued to work with me to get the project moving in the right direction. I trusted in their expertise and was rewarded.

They finished on time and not only were they efficient in building the space – they've come back several times to help me with installing lights, artwork on the wall, as well as put together some of my furniture. I'm not sure if anyone else does that!

I would highly recommend Arminco! Art and his excellent team will take care of you! Not only do I consider them partners in my career, they've become good friends!

Sincerely,
